SEVERAL HURT IN BATTLE WITH FLAMES

Reapportionment Fight Before Assembly Committee Tonight

COMPROMISE PLEA FROM NORTHERN FACTION

Southern Legislators Hold Meeting; W. E. Evans of Glendale Makes Talk

By GIL A. COWAN
Special to The Evening News

SACRAMENTO, March 15.—Tonight reapportionment comes before the assembly committee in consideration of the Baker bill. This asks for southern California's full constitutional representation according to the 1920 census, or twenty-one assemblymen and ten senators.

During the last twenty hours, efforts have been made to get a more satisfactory apportionment for the benefit of the northern districts, which will lose heavily.

A committee from Los Angeles county, representing more than a score of civic, social and political organizations, last night tendered a dinner to the southern representatives and others.

Frank Eksward, chairman of the Assembly reapportionment committee, a resident of Burlingame, Alameda county, was present in a wheel-chair to assure absolute impartiality. He said:

"As far as the chairman is concerned, if it be my vote I desire to see the reapportonment bll thrown on the floor and all the eghty members of the Assembly be given the opportunity to vote on it."

Eliminate Jealousy

Martin C. Neuner of Los Angeles, who presided, opened his remarks with a plea to eliminate sectional jealousy, saying:

"We find this feeling does not exist among the rank and file of the state, but rests largely with a few legislators who have the idea that their constituents are endeavoring to do something to block the growth of southern California.

Senator Arthur H. Breed, president pro tem, from Alameda county, sounded the keynote of co-operation when he stated:

"I think we should carry out our sworn duty. The practical thing to do is to make the best compromise and get some sort of a reapportionment through the legislature if it is possible.

Helps Whole State

"Something was said about our being jealous of southern California. We feel that when a building goes up there, it helps the entire state, and when any improvement is made in the north it benefits the entire state. In regard to reapportionment I simply want to say this: The governor of California some eighteen months ago telegraphed

Approximately 4500 cities in this country are supplied with artificial gas, the bureau stated, while the food of one-half of the population is prepared by gas-using appliances.

FOREST FIRE LOSS ABOUT 5 MILLIONS

Blaze on Mount Lowe Is Under Control After Fight Of Fifteen Hours

LOS ANGELES, March 15.—A long hoped for shift and abatement in the winds early today enabled the fighters who for fifteen hours had been battling the forest fire on Mount Lowe to bring the blaze under control, according to unverified reports from the stricken area.

Only an increased velocity of the winds would make the situation menacing again, it was said.

Damage caused by the fire was estimated today at approximately $5,000,000. The fire was said to be burning mostly on Echo mountain, two miles from Mount Lowe, and a volunteer squad of 1000 men were on hand at daybreak this morning to keep the flames from spreading.

NINE DEAD IN TRAGEDY AT POORHOUSE

Seven of Victims Are Aged Women; Man Saves 3, Loses Own Life

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 15.—Nine persons, seven of them women, lost their lives in an explosion and fire that swept through the Alleghany county almshouse at Angelica early today.

The women were all aged and helplessly bedridden.

One of the men who perished was Charles Sanborn, an attendant. Five minutes before he lost his life he had succeeded in saving three inmates.

The explosion took place in the boiler room and the fire spread rapidly through the institution.

When the explosion occurred, attendants rushed to the sleeping quarters and carried out many inmates, but fast-spreading flames soon cut their entrance off. Sanborn, despite constant warnings, made his way into the sleeping quartere for a third time, after bringing out three women. That was the last seen of him. His charred body was found later. The other man killed was still unidentified at 10 a. m.

Seek to Identify

Authorities said it would be impossible to get the names of the women until a careful check up of all inmates is made.

The inmates include twenty-four women, nearly all of them of advanced age and many of them very feeble, and twenty-nine men, most of them feeble.

The charred bodies of the six bed-ridden victims were recovered. The seventh woman to die lost her life when she succeeded in getting out of her bed, going to a window on the second floor and jumping to the ground before any attempt could be made to rescue her.

War Department Puts Dry Lid on Porto Rico

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Despite the fact that the Philippines are "wide open" as far as liquor is concerned, Porto Rico will remain as "dry" as continental United States under a ruling made by legal authorities of the war department and concurred in by the attorney-general, it was learned officially today.

Appeals to the United States supreme court are expected, but officials believe the court will uphold the war department ruling, though the opinion is without known precedent.

Practical prohibition has existed in Porto Rico since the Volstead act came into effect, but thirsty Porto Ricans have contended the island is legally exempt from the prohibition laws and have pointed to the situation in the Philippines as an example of "unjust discrimination."

Couple Ready to Try One Year of Marriage

DETROIT, Mich., March 15.—Marriage "for keeps" is too risky, and the laws of Michigan are "all wrong," according to John Attaro and Mary Alexander, who were denied a license to wed for one year. They refused to take a "permanent" license and have parted. John is going back to Malta.

"It's all wrong," says John. "I won't take a chance with Mary for more than a year. She's a Spaniard, and I'm a Maltese. I've been in this country for three years, and I haven't been able to find a Maltese girl. Mary was the nearest approach to one I could find."

"We don't want to spoil our whole lives by a foolish marriage. You see everybody talks of separating after they've been married two or three years. John is afraid I won't suit him, and he doesn't want to be tied to me for life. There's a difference in our language, our people and customs. I would be glad to marry him for one year but no longer."

COMMENT That's All

First Lamb, Then Lion
Luck In Cycles, What?
Will Wood, Politician
Truth About The Budget

By Gil A. Cowan

TRUE to form, March entered like a lamb, and now is performing like a lion. Storms all over the country this week have left a toll of death and destruction that makes one glad to be living in this peaceful vale near the Pacific's shore.

Even Mt. Lassen has gotten "het up," as Hank Neighbors says, and if the high winds of yesterday passing over California gather impetus on their journey eastward there are going to be a lot more cyclonic disturbances for the newspapers to report.

The elements sometimes are none too pleasant to contemplate. The reported death of a Bakersfield jeweler on the Utah-Nevada desert only goes to show how fragile we mortals are. Many of us know no fear until we are overcome by it, like natural gas, and then it is too late unless a divine providence intervenes.

There must be something to Providence, it is easy to conclude, when you look back over the pitfalls which might have ensnared you by the way. Some of our most successful men confess that their fortunes were built on pure unadulterated luck.

Luck runs in cycles, it seems. Some people are lucky at cards and very unlucky at matrimony. Others lucky in health have little else, and the man lucky enough to possess a fortune usually does not have the qualities which permit his fullest enjoyment of wealth.

Take Henry Ford, for example. More money comes to him each month than Midas of the fable boasted. Yet Henry would rather be president than make another dime. Providence will save the United States probably from such a president, but provide us with many more Ford motor cars profitably manufactured.

It is interesting to note the completion of the Tuesday Afternoon club house and its auspicious opening events. At the same time we wonder if it was not Providence that guided the various actions of the committees in their realty transactions and financial plans.

It is not the desire of the writer to discount the business acumen of the women, for we might likewise refer to the profits made by the Citizens' Building corporation, which housed the Chamber of Commerce. Certainly those who invested in the venture little dreamed of making 100 per cent on their money.

So it is that luck is with us—sometimes—most of the time, but not always.

California has a large class of medicos, it would seem, from the report of the state board of medical examiners who report the licensing of 747 during the last year to replace 170 who died during the year.

At the present rate of increase it may be necessary for the pathologists to find some remedy for starvation.

It is good to know we are not alone in our ideas regarding the school budget and school efficiency. The Sacramento Union, first paper in the state, editorially says:

"Because Governor Richardson, in his budget, recommended that the expenses of the office of the superintendent of public instruction be reduced from $50,000 to $42,800 a year, Will C. Wood, the present incumbent, made some rather severe and condemnatory statements concerning the governor.

"His utterances to the press when the governor first presented his budget, that " 'The governor presents a spectacle that is truly pitiful. He has failed to make good on his promises. . . . The governor's floundering when he discusses the budget is pitiful. . . . He doesn't tell the same story from day to day. . . . He has given way to blusterings,' etc., etc., was a singular emanation from the head of the educational department of this state.

"Such language, so disrespectful of the chief magistrate of this state, did ill become an educated subordinate official.

"And almost continuously since has the superintendent of public instruction continued his tirades against the governor and actually made the people believe that the governor was opposed to the public school system.

"Indeed, that section of the public press which so valiantly supported the debonair but moist gentleman from Los Angeles, who sought to be governor last fall, has likewise been persuaded to Wood's cause, and, true to type, has malignantly, willfully and continuously maligned the governor and his budget. Nothing untrue and false that could be said about the budget and the governor has been left unsaid.

"As a politician Will C. Wood is a pronounced success.

"As head of what, perhaps, is the most important department of state government, his success is not so pronounced.

"Wood knows perfectly well, and has always known that the governor, by recommending a reduction in the expenses of his office, was not in the slightest degree affecting the efficiency of the public school system. The governor was seeking merely to reduce what appeared to be an unnecessary overhead expense.

"In reality, Governor Richardson has recommended in his budget $38,725,850 for the support of education for the next two year, as against $33,103,745 provided by Governor Stephens during the past two years.

"Is this retarding the functioning of the public school system?

"Sixty per cent of all the state budget appropriations is for education.

"Is this reducing efficiency in the school department?"

This should give the public something to think about!

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

Last March there was lost in the mail a laundry case full of washing which was being returned to me by the washerwoman.

Fortunately (or so I thought at the time) I had always been careful to insure my washing as it traveled back and forth. My insurance was $50. It would not, of course, replace all the articles that I had lost, but it would at least do something toward paying for new underwear which had to be bought at once.

Like a Widower

So, after waiting a decent length of time (like a widower) I put in a claim to the authorities.

In a very few weeks I received an envelope from the United States government, "My $50!" I exclaimed. "And yet they say the government is so bound up in red tape that it takes forever to get anything. I knew people exaggerated about that."

But it wasn't my $50. It was a request to me to send them the address of the place I had been in the habit of receiving the washing that they might make a thorough search and be sure it was not delivered.

I gave them the information and waited a few weeks more. Again an envelope. Opened a little less hopefully. This time they wanted a full list of all articles lost.

I gave them a list. Several weeks. Another envelope. Opened with but little hope. And rightfully. This time they wanted the names of the stores at which I bought each article, the dates of purchase and the sales slips.

Where He Bought His Pajamas

I suggested that we write the official asking him to send me the sales slips of his pajamas bought last year and his woolen underwear bought the year before, but the Authorman vetoed that, and said he would try to see what he could do.

He wrote them a masterpiece of a letter that would have brought him far more than $50 at his regular rates of payment. We felt sure it would bring results, and it did. In a very few days a letter came. Business of renewed hope. And with reason. It was a very human and hopeful letter. The writer would at once see that the matter was brought to the attention of the proper authority and that everything was straightened out.

That was in October. Since then there has been an absolutely unbroken silence on the part of the authorities.

The Twenty-Foot Door

The Authorman says that trying to get anything from the United States government is as if you went up to an oak door twenty feet thick with a push button beside it. You can push the button and perhaps someone will come. If they don't come or if, when they do come, they only open the door for ten seconds to tell you they will call some one else, and then disappear not to return for some months, you are absolutely helpless. If you keep pushing the button and cursing your helplessness you don't bother anyone but yourself and you probably get yourself into a useless rage.

There is no one behind that door whom you can reach, no one who will lose his job for not really trying to serve the public, no one who will rise to a position of more pay, honor and responsibility if he does try to serve.

When I was younger I used to believe ardently in socialism. It seemed to me that a world in which no one had the dreadful fear of losing his job to lash him on, a world in which there were neither poverty nor wealth, would be an ideal world. I still wish as ardently as ever that socialism were workable. I would be glad to give up all hopes of wealth to know that poverty were done away with. But year by year I have greater doubts of the functioning of a system where everything would be run the way the government runs the industries it owns.

We would hate to have a twenty foot oak door between us and all the business interests we have to deal with, wouldn't we?

Perhaps some day I shall get my $50. Who knows? I heard of someone the other day who got his insurance for something he had quite forgotten what.

Wish me success.

Northern Legislators Seek to Get Best They Can in Reapportionment

every member of the legislature asking if they thought reapportionment wouldd carry it a special session.

"I replied that I with 11 others held up my hand and agreed to support the constitution and carry uot our sworn duy. I feel that way now."

W. E. Evans Speaks

Attorney W. E. Evans, of Glendale, pointed out the fact that there are now 300000 people in Los Angeles couty who are not represented as the constitution provides, and Judge Dana R. Weller followed with the declaration that this government was founded on the principle that there should be no taxation without representation.

"Now the people of Iowa who have settled in southern California ask that they be not taxed without representation. The fact that they came to California in 1919 instead of '49 makes no difference," he concluded.

E. J. Wightman, banker and Chamber of Commerce representative from Long Beach, urged the legislators to take up the subject in the right spirit and carry out the provisions of the constitution.

Woman Gives Views

Mrs. Florence Collin Porter, president of the Republican Women's Study club of Los Angeles, added:

"We are firmly convinced as to the right way to settle the problem. We believe in abiding by the constitution. We do not want to see division of his grand and glorious state. We love it from Siskiyou to San Diego. Let us go on with courage, remembering that equal suffrag was obtained only by years of effort.

"We may not get rapportionment from this legisature but it is ours by right and we are going to get it because it is right."

Assemblyman Edwin Baker, father of Bill 789, which will be taken up tonight, talked at length on the subject and thanked the delegation for its suport.

May Be Compromise

Senator Frank S. Boggs, of Stockton, told of his measure, which may be used as a compromise, and stated he had tried to put in a bill that would pass. He urged the application of the golden rule to the settlement of the difference between San Francisco and Los Angels.

He added that he understood a constitutional amendment was to come before the assmbly, which provides for reapportionment which will keep the control of the Assembly in the country districts, giving the Snate to the three large cities.

Senator Harry Chamberlin, of Los Angeles, advocated full constitutional reapportionment, otherwise letting the issue go to the people at the next general election, feeling sure that southern California would benefit greatly at the expense of those who now oppose a political redivision.

New Budget Fight

The decision rendered by Attorney General Webb, that revenues of self-supporting institutions of the state government are not automatically diverted to the general fund of the state and which was read before the joint senate and assembly committee on the Richardson budget hearings, has aroused a dispute that threatens the passage of the entire budget plan. About $37,000,000 of state funds are involved in the decision, money that has been included in the state budget by Mrs. Nettie Pierce.

The Richardson administration argues that the decision sustains its position that every dollar of revenue from every source, now collected by self-sustaining institutions, must go into the general budget account, and that the legislature, under the budget constitutional amendment, is compelled to enact such laws as shall wipe out all existing special funds covering these ommissions.

Other View

It is held by the opposition, however that the decision absolutely decires the special funds remain as they are now unless the legislature passes laws changing the system, and that there is no compulsion on the legislature to take this course.

Senator J. M. Inman, leading the fight against the budget, plans to demand a statement from the board of control stating its position, claiming that the Webb decision has shot the budget plan to pieces.

BEAUTY CHATS

by EDNA KENT FORBES

THOSE SWEEPING LASHES

I doubt whether any woman is quite satisfied with her eyelashes. Each one would like to possess lashes a little longer, a little thicker, perhaps a little curlier than those she already has. The result is that many firms selling plain vaseline mixed with some impressive sounding or impressive smelling drug have made fortunes.

Vaseline I consider of little use. It is a mineral product and is not nourishing. But the following mixture I know to be exeellent.

Eyelash Tonic

Cocoa butter	1 dram
Parawax	4 drams
Lanoline	1-2 dram
Oil of sweet almonds	4 drams
Any perfumed oil	2 drops

Everything in this formula helps to grow hair. It makes a very thick cream which will not rub well into the lashes until it has warmed itself against the skin. A few more drops of the perfumed oil or another dram of the almond oil would give you a more easily managed cream which would really be as good. However, I prefer it as given above.

The first part of any definite treatment for the lashes is to sacrifice a little of their present length by clipping them back. Your manicure scissors with the curve of the points away from the face are very good for this. It is a task you had best do yourself with your hand mirror and a good light. After three months I would advise clipping again and meantime the use every few nights of this cream.

Rub a little into the skin and rub well all round the lower and upper lashes. Wipe off the cream not in direct contact with the hairs. It doesn't matter how much goes around the eyes as, being very nourishing, it is good for crows feet. Hair will not grow here.

A. L. S.—There is no particular age when a girl should begin to use powder. It should never be used at all unless it is actually needed and then most sparingly, surely never so it shows on the skin. Drink more water and be careful of your diet for a time, and your skin will not be so oily, but when it is remove it with a small piece of chamois which will leave your skin looking much better than a coat of powder.

Brown Eyes.—A girl 16 years who is inclined to skin eruptions should not resort to any cosmetics to improve her complexion. There are physical reasons for this trouble which will probably correct themselves provided the girl lives according to the requirements of health.

Cupid.—When you receive a gift directly from the donor, by all means open the package and do your thanking in the same informal way as the giver has done by delivering the package to you in person.

Tomorrow—Well Protected Hands

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

My Dear Followers:

When sending for material which we offer you, you must enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address, or the material cannot be sent you. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. And

You must not write more than 200 words, or your letter cannot be read. Please remember I cannot make diagnoses nor prescribe for you individually, or write you personal advice. I can only send you such information as I offer you through the column from time to time.

Address your letters to me in care of this paper, and allow at least two weeks for the article you have asked for to reach you. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible if they are of general interest.

"Dear Doctor:

"I am five feet three inches tall and weigh 172 pounds. During Thanksgiving I developed what seemed to be lumbago. Would the fact that I am too heavy cause it?

"I have three daughters who are far too heavy and they are just ruining their health, future and looks. I am talking constantly on the subject of diet. They say it is a mania with me. My husband had tuberculosis and we cooked for him. That was the start.

My oldest daughter has had two Caesarean births. With her first birth she had a severe case of eclampsia. She eats excessive amounts of salt. Could that have anything to do with her obesity?

"Two of the girls are now trying a course of diets. Yet the oldest has gained. They eat but one meal a day and that at night. —Anxious Mother."

Overweight persons often do suffer more with lumbago and other pains and aches than do those who are normal weight. It is possible you had some strain beside. How about your teeth?

It is too bad that you did not have a knowledge of dietetics with your 'mania' for talking on reducing, isn't it? Overweight was probably not the cause of the need for the Caesarean section. This operation is most frequently practiced when there is a contracted or deformed pelvis, so severe that a normal birth is impossible. It is sometimes performed in severe eclampsia, acute poisoning in pregnancy, probably most often brought about by prolonged overeating. The fact that your daughter was considerably overweight and evidently was eating excessively might have had a great deal to do with her case.

Salt in excess is bad at any time, and in obesity and other disorders such as kidney and heart diseases a very, very small amount of salt should be used—and in some cases none at all.

You will have to convince your daughters that they must have a knowledge of dietetics. The a, b, c, of dietetics is a knowledge of calories. The fact that one has gained even on one meal a day shows that she is getting more calories than she needs.

You ask where you can get my book on reducing and gaining. Recently a newspaper writer who conducts a popular column in a New York paper, had a book published. The other day in his column there appeared a paragraph stating that he considered it was extremely bad form for column writers who had books published to speak of them in their columns. He said he wouldn't think of telling his readers that his book was very clever and was selling rapidly in all book stores for one dollar and a half.

I feel the same way. I am extremely modest about my book, Diet and Health with Key to the Calories and I wouldn't dream of mentioning that it is the most successful book in its line, both in point of sales and results, ever published, and that every book store in the country has difficulty in keeping them in stock they sell so rapidly at one dollar a copy.

TODAY—Destruction of democratic ideals by liques in public schools is charged by legislative committee following an investigation of Missouri schools, writes Douglas G. Tinsley.

TOMORROW—Elevated street, built of glass, loposed to relieve growing congestion on Market street "Broadway of the West," writes Ellis H. Martin of San Francisco.

By DOUGLAS G. TINSLEY

KANSAS CITY Mo., March 15.—Motor cars, silk stockings and Greek letter fraternities in high schools are making snobs of students and destroying the democracy which, theoretically, is the cornerstone of the public school system.

This is the charge hurled by an investigating committee of the Missouri legislature which is probing assertions that the greater portion of $500,000 annually appropriated by the state to the upkeep of Kansas City's schools goes to auxiliary things instead of additional quarters for the accommodation of the city's school children.

Senator David M. Proctor, leading the investigation into the alleged squandering of the school funds on "sewing circles, athletic auditoriums and canning factories," while thousands of children are receiving inadequate educational training because of lack of quarters due, charged the condition to spending of school money for "fancy frills" instead of new buildings and "old-time education" and branded Kansas City's high school pupils of today as "milk-feds."

"The trouble with the schools today," he declared, "is that there are too many silk stockings, motor cars and Greek letter fraternities none of which is conducive to democracy. They're getting too many frills in the public schools. The parents expect the schools to take over the training of their children. If the mothers wouldn't gad about so much to matinees and card parties the schools wouldn't have to provide auditoriums and gymnasiums for the children's health and look after their entertainment and everything else. There has been a breaking down in the discipline of the home, and as a result the burden of discipline is being shifted to the schools, and this is responsible for many of the extra features that are being added."

Charges were made that many high school children ride to and from school in expensive motor cars and that the board of education has been buying fifteen-acre sites for high schools in order to provide parking space and garages for high school students who drive their own cars.

It was revealed during the investigation that instead of the public schools being democratic institutions where all meet on a common basis for the time being their student body is divided into cliques, with their various societies, Greek letter "frats" and other discriminating associations; that the poor boy or girl whose parents are persons of moderate means is "elbowed" out of membership in affairs of the "motor operating," "silk stocking brigade" and that no effort is made by many teachers to see that the system of "class rule" is discouraged or prohibited.

The result, it is charged, is to destroy the democracy of the common educational system, to wound the pride and feelings of the poorer students and to instill in them a feeling of resentment and rebellion against the society that tolerates it.

Recently a 19-year-old high school student, who was working his way through school turned bandit and was killed in a battle with police following his robbery of two gasoline filling stations. He was a model student and considered of irreproachable character. After his death it was revealed that he was much worried because of lack of money to keep up with the "societies" of his fellow students and it is believed he turned to banditry to get enough money to enable him to become a member of the "elect" in student social activities.

SEEKS SITE FOR MILITARY SCHOOL

Glendale Realtors Asked to Assist in Locating Academy Here

Plans for the establishment of a military academy in Glendale have been launched by some of the leading educators connected with the military schools of the Southland, and a Los Angeles syndicate has already signified its readineses to underwrite the project to the extent of $150,000, according to a statement made by a representative of the men who are behind the scheme, and who are now seeking a site where the academy can be built and where suitable grounds can be laid out.

The plans, as now under consideration, call for the foundation of a school similar to the leading military schools of the eastern states, where strict military training in the cavalry, infantry and artillery branches of the army work may be imparted, in addition to the regular grammar and high school courses that would form the basic part of the curriculum. The boys who were received into the school would be, for the most part, boarding pupils, but boys whose homes are in the city where the academy is to be located would be received as day pupils and would be permitted to reside in their homes. It is more desirable, however, in the opinon of the representative of the interests who are backing the academy, and who is himself an educato of wide experience in military schools, that the students at the schoo remain at all times under the control of the faculty of the institution, as this would, he asserts, aid in the constant maintenance of the discipline that would be an integral part of the academy's training.

Looking or Site

The choice of site for the academy lies between Glendale and another city, and an investigation is now under way here to secure, if possible, a site of from eight to ten acres, that would permit the laying out of he school buildings themselves, the cavalry and infantry parade grounds, the playing fields and other necessary adjuncts to such an institution, and on the price to be pad for such a site and its locatio depends the decision of the men who are promoting the projec.

It is asserted that the establishment of an academy of this nature here, run on lines that have proven sound and successful in eastern states, would be of inestimable benefit to Glendale, not only as affording a high-class school in which the youth of the city could be trained, but also from an advertising point of view, as it is claimed that many of the pupils who would enroll at such a school would come from the East to a section where outdoor work is possible for almost every day in the year, and where they would be in touch with a section of the country that offers greater advantages for the training of growing boys than any other, and the visits of relatives of such boys to Glendale would inevitably result in bringing a wealthy class of citizens to the city to make their homes permanently.

The Glendale Realty Board has been asked to aid in the selection of a site that will meet the requirements of the proposed academy, and the result of the investigation that is now being carried on should be known within a few days.

Gets Permit to Run Summer Stage Line

George W. Wilkins of 406 Salem street has been granted a permit by the California State Railroad Commission to operate a passenger and express auto stage line, during June, July, August and September, from Bishop to Mono Lake, over what is called the "High Sierra Scenic Route." The line will serve tourists, campers and trout fishermen.

Mr. Wilkins investigated this route in June of last year and immediately upon his return made application to the railroad commission for the permit, which was strongly contested by the Pickwick Stage company, with the result that two hearings were held in Los Angeles and one at Independence, California. The final decision was made February 27 in favor of Mr. Wilkins.

YOUNG MEN LEAP TO LEADERSHIP

Individual American Fails to Fill Responsibility, Haddock Claims

"Some of the Requisites of a Salesman" was the subject chosen by Lon J. Haddock, president of the Haddock-Nibley company, sub-dividers, for his address to the Glendale Realty board at their weekly luncheon yesterday at the C & S cafeteria, in which he declared that the day is rapidly coming in southern California when the opportunist will be given short shrift and when the prizes will be distributed on merit alone. The men and women who are to reap these large rewards, said Mr. Haddock, will have a knowledge and an understanding of their responsible relationship to the community, but they must prepare themselves for the tasks that lie ahead of them, if they are to measure up to the duties that will be laid on them.

One of the first essentials of salesmanship, he stated, is the knowledge of how to handle one's fellow beings if one is to achieve success. Luck is not a vital factor in any worth-while success, but self-analysis and the ability to direct one's brains along the channels that lead to positive thinking, rather than negative, are the things that are bringing new leaders out of obscurity overnight to grasp the rewards that this world gives so freely and richly to the successful.

High Standards

The trend of modern development, declared Mr. Haddock, is bringing young men to the front to assume the position of leaders, but, he added with emphasis, the individual American citizen is not measuring up to his possibilities, in view of the opportunities that are strewn so bountifully before him. Every man has it in himself to approach the high standard set at the beginning of the race, when God made man in His own image and endowed him with god-like characteristics, but to reach these standards a man must be prepared to give of the best that is in him to the world in exchange for what he gets out of it.

This preparation, Mr. Haddock said, is doubly essential on the part of the men who are developing permanent communities such as are growing in southern California, and no class of men is bearing a greater share in that development than the real estate men.

Man's physical well being, declared Mr. Haddock, is based on healthy thoughts, and no man can succeed whose mind is filled with impure ideas, any more than he can build a house on a rotten foundation and expect it to stand. People judge by appearances, and it is the duty of every man to appear at his best, to keep himself healthy and to cultivate all the graces. We are responsible for our clothes, he added, because we hang them on ourselves.

Charles B. Guthrie, following the address, asked Mr. Haddock to have it transcribed for publication in the California Real Esate, the official journal of the California Real Estate association, which he agreed to do.

Nisle's Anniversary Is Marked by Sale

In celebration of his first anniversary in the men's and boys' clothing business at 135½ South Brand boulevard, Ed Nisle is offering to his many friends a special three-day sale at values he states are lower than ever before since he has been in business here.

"It is owing to the volume of business given me by the people of Glendale that I am able to offer such values as I am giving," says Mr. Nisle. "Moreover, due to increased business, I now have a much larger stock to select from than at any time during my first year in business."

"The extra pair will double the wear," is the slogan adopted by the Ed Nisle store, and suits with two pairs of pants are offered at prices Mr. Nisle states are the result of a supreme purchasing effort, in order to give to the men, young men and boys of Glendale more for their money than they can obtain elsewhere.

Tujunga Boys Aid in Forest Fire Battle

Richard Frank and Howard Rich of Tujunga stopped at the Glendale Evening News office this morning on their way home from fighting fire on Mt. Lowe.

The boys went to join the fire-fighting corps yesterday afternoon. When they arrived the fire was raging, and they participated in a seven-and-a-half-hour fight, which resulted in saving the Alpine Tavern, the observatory and the incline railway.

The reported that the fire-fighters were guests at dinner and overnight at the Alpine Tavern, where the management attempted to express appreciation for their services.

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE PAPER BAG

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping home to his hollow stump bungalow, he heard a voice calling behind him and saying:

"Hold on! Wait a minute! I want you!"

"Oh, ho; no, indeed! Nothing like that!" thought the bunny gentleman to himself. "You're the Fox, or Wolf—I know you are—and you want to nibble my ears!"

So Uncle Wiggily hopped on all the faster, but when he heard a jolly laugh close behind him the bunny rabbit turned and saw Mr. Whitewash, his polar bear friend.

"What's your hurry, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Mr. Whitewash. "I am lonesome and I wanted to walk with you."

"Oh, excuse me! I thought you were the Wolf or Fox," said Uncle Wiggily. 'Of course I'll walk with you, Mr. Whitewash."

Then the two friends walked along together until, all of a sudden, ncle Wiggily saw an empty paper bag on the ground where it had been dropped, perhaps, by the delivery dog boy from the grocery store.

"I'll play a little trick on Nurse Jane with this paper bag," said Uncle Wiggily as he picked it up.

"How will you play a trick on Nurse Jane with an empty bag?" asked the polar bear gentleman.

"I'll make believe it's filled with something good," chuckled Uncle Wiggily.

"How can you?" Mr. Whitewash wanted to know. "As soon as Nurse Jane sees the bag she can tell that it is flat and empty."

"I'll blow the bag up full of air," laughed the bunny gentleman. "That will swell it up like a balloon and Nurse Jane will think it is filled with honey cakes, perhaps—until she lifts it. Oh, I'll play a little joke on her, all right."

"Such a joke as that will do no harm, I think," said Mr. Whitewash, also laughing.

Then the polar bear gentleman went his way and Uncle Wiggily went his way, and as he hopped along the bunny rabbit blew the empty paper bag full of air, tying a string around the neck so none of the air would get out.

"This will be a fine trick to fool Nurse Jane," thought Uncle Wiggily, as he looked at the empty bag, now full and big and round, like a balloon. "And, as Mr. Whitewash said, there is no harm in it."

Holding the bag as if he might be carrying something very valuable, like chunks of coal or diamonds, Uncle Wiggily drew near his hollow stump bungalow. He was laughing to himself, thinking how surprised Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy would be when, all of a sudden, a voice called, asking:

"What are you giggling at?"

It was a cross, impolite voice, and as soon as he heard it Uncle Wiggily felt that he was going to have trouble. He turned around, and there he saw the Bob Cat.

"Hum!" snarled the Bob Cat, looking angrily at Uncle Wiggily's ears. "What have you there?" and his eyes glared at the empty, but blown-up, paper bag. "What have you there?"

"Nothing," answered Uncle Wiggily, truthfully enough, for really there was nothing in the bag but air, and that doesn't count.

"Nothing! Nothing in that big, fat bag!" howled the Bob Cat. "I don't believe you! Here! Give it to me!" He reached out his paws for the bag, but he grasped it so hard, clapping his paws together, the Bob Cat did, that he burst the paper bag.

"Giveit to me!" howled the Bob Cat.

"Bang!" it went with a noise like a gun "Bang!"

"Oh! Oh, dear! Ouch! I'm shot! I knew you weren't telling the truth when you said you had nothing in that bag!" howled the Bob Cat. "You had a gun in it and I'm hot. Oh, dear!" and away he ra.

But he wasn't shot at all, for there was only air in the bag, and it was that which made the noise when it burst out.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, as he looked at the burst bag. "It was a better trick on the Bob Cat than it would have been on Nurse Jane. Ho! Ho! Everything happened for the best."

And if the parlor carpet isn't too proud to speak to the dining room rug when they're put out on the grass together to be cleaned, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Snaper.

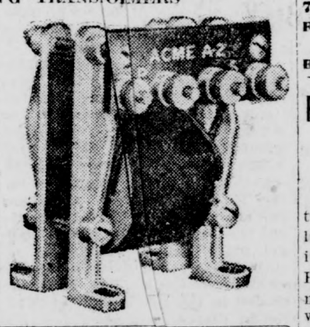
AUDIO AMPLIFYING TRANSFORMERS

The Acme audio frequency amplifying transformer was the first on the market for amateur and experimental purposes and has rightly earned the name of "the broadcasting transformer," because it gives maximum amplification without distortion. Use an Acme in a set of your construction and insist on its use in a set you buy.

The Acme Apparatus Company is the first and only company to specialize on amplification without distortion and to recognize that distortion causes more inconvenience than static.



RADIO DEVELOPMENT

U. S. AIR SERVICE (RESERVE)

RADIATION RESISTANCE EARTH SCREWS

In general radiation is better the shorter the wave length, the law governing this being that the power radiated varies directly as the square of the frequency — that is, for a simple vertical antenna.

The power radiated from an antenna is the square of the antenna current multiplied by the radiation resistance and, according to Hertz, the radiation resistance for a long, flat-topped antenna is the square of the mean height of the antenna divided by the square of the wave length (both in the same units), multiplied by 1600.

In view of the loss in radiation efficiency due to increase in wave length, it is necessary in the case of long distance stations (which invariably use long waves) not only to arrange for minimum losses in respect to those causes which are controllable, but to counteract as far as possible those losses due to eddy currents in the ground or earth beneath the antenna and to dielectric losses in surface vegetation. In the case of their large stations the Marconi company devised an earth screen, the object of which is to proide a low resistance capacity to neutralize at the earth's surface the magnetic and electrical fields produced by the antenna.

This screen takes the form of wires extended underneath and parallel to the antenna and extending beyond the antenna for a distance not greater than the antenna's height. The spacing of the wires of the screen being proportional to its height a compromise between the cost of the supports for a high screen and the cost of the wire for a low screen, but the screen must be clear of obstructions and beyond the reach of persons beneath it. This arrangement is also allued to as a "counterpoise."

As an example of the efficiency of a counterpoise or screen, it may be mentioned that in the case of the high-powered station at Clifden, Ireland, on a wave length of 5,770 meters, the use of the counterpoise reduced the antenna resistance from 4.5 ohms to 0.55 ohms.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Segregation of criminal defectives of Illinois will soon be accomplished, in the opinion of Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Chicago Municipal Court. Justice Olson has worked long for legislation which would provide for the removal of persons found to be mentally abnormal and whose presence is a menace to society.

If plans evolved by Justice Olson and incorporated in a measure to be presente dto the State Legislature are realized, the State will provide a farm comprised of 1,000 acres, to be located near Chicago, where the criminal defectives of the State will be isolated. The "farm," according to plans of the originator of the scheme, would be made as homelike as possible. Cottages would be provided for the segregated persons. All relatives would be given free access to the colony. The farm would be operated by the inmates. They would be kept busy at all times.

No effort will be made at this time, according to Justice Olson, to provide for sterilization of persons found criminally defective. He does advocate, however, amendment of the marriage laws of the State to prevent defectives from marrying.

Subscription Promotion Drive

WITH a daily circulation of 6700 now, it is the ultimate aim of The Evening News to place a copy of the paper in every home in Glendale and vicinity.

Friends of The Evening News are joining with us in this successful subscription-getting drive.

This means if you are not now a subscriber you may become one for a period of three months by paying 50 cents for your own subscription, and prevailing upon a friend who is a non-subscriber to pay a like amount for the same period.

A person who is now a subscriber may have his subscription date extended three months upon payment of 50 cents when such payment is accompanied by 50 cents for a three months' subscription from a non-subscriber.

Tennis Champ Battles Way to Lenglen Match

NICE, March 15.—The long-delayed meeting of Mrs. Molla B. Mallory and Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, on the courts of the Riviera, hinged today on Mrs. Mallory's match with Mrs. O'Neill, veteran English player, in the third round of the singles. The American also has a second round match earlier in the day with Miss E. Tobin, an indifferent performer, and is conceded a victor, thus entitling her to meet Mrs. O'Neill, a strong contender. The American, however, is confident of winning easily.

"I played Mrs. O'Neill several times in England," she declared, and usually beat her in love games. I am glad I am to play her today because I believe she will furnish me good practice before I meet Mlle. Lenglen Friday."

The French champion's third round match with Mlle. Vlasto is a mere formality.

OFFER $750,000 FOR TITLE BOUT

Dempsey to Battle Firpo in Buenos Aires for Heavy Championship

LOS ANGELES, March 15. — Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight boxing champion, will defend his title next November at Buenos Aires against Louis Firpo, conqueror of Bill Brennan, and admitted contender for Dempsey's crown. Dempsey admitted today the offer to meet the young South American was too great to be refused by himself and his manager, Jack Kearns.

The champion's offer consists of $750,000 cash, $25,000 of which will be considered as training and traveling expenses and three-fourths of the returns from the motion pictures. Furthermore, the match will be backed by the Argentine government, whose representatives are now in New York negotiating with Firpo. They also have had several conferences with Kearns recently and only the smallest details for the bout remain to be worked out, it was learned. Dempsey held a long distance telephone conversation with Kearns late last night during which Kearns is said to have told the champion the details of the arrangements.

Dempsey admitted the match was not cinched in every respect yet, but intimated he did not see how it could fall through.

The champion freely admitted Firpo was a good fighter and said that the people of Argentine are crazed over Firpo's victory over Brennan, so the reports to him said.

COLLINS PEEVED WHEN DEAL FAILS

Failure of Project to Make Him Yank Chief Means War on Comiskey

NEW YORK, March 15.—Disappointment prompted by losing his chance to become manager of the New York Yanks in 1924 rather than any real or fancied grievance against Comiskey was declared today by baseball men here to be the basic reason for Eddie Collins' failure to sign a White Sox contract to date. Collins, it is said, has accepted the collapse of the proposed deal, whereby he was to become second baseman of the Yanks and ultimately their manager, with all due grace. But at the same time he is said to have become determined to make Comiskey pay for the failure of the project.

That Collins was really scheduled to be made manager of the Yanks is not doubted by this writer. When the deal was abandoned definitely, he told the writer he was entirely satisfied to remain in Chicago, but qualified the statement with this remark:

"I am also sorry I was not sent to the Yanks for a reason I do not care to state now that the deal has fallen through."

The reason probably was nothing more than the fact he had been promised the management of the club, for Miller Huggins sits insecurely on the Yankee band wagon and is believed to cherish ideas about owning a minor league club.

Eddie Mulligan Will Join Mid-West League

RACINE, Wis., March 15. — Eddie Mulligan, former third baseman for the Chicago White Sox, is "through with organized baseball," he asserted today.

Mulligan, who figured last fall in a $100,000 deal whereby Willie Kamm, Pacific Coast league star, was sent to the White Sox, and Mulligan and another Sox player to San Francisco, has signed a contract to play with and captain the Horlick team, Racine, in the mid-west league, this year.

Brennan Recovers From Effects of Walloping

NEW YORK, March 15.—Bill Brennan, who suffered concussion of the brain as the result of terrific blows received in his boat with Luis Firpo Monday night is on the road to recovery today, it was announced at the Jewish Memorial hospital here. Brennan passed a comfortable night and his condition is greatly improved, they declared.

Hoppe Beats Schaefer For Billiard Title

NEW YORK, March 15. — Willie Hoppe, reinstated master of the billiard world, will be immune from further assaults on his 18.2 balk line title until next fall, as the result of his defeat of Jake Schaefer, 1500 to 1341 in their championship match, the final block of which was played last night.

SCRAPPING THE NAVY

A lot of folks think the navy should be made ready for a scrap, instead of being scrapped.

The walrus supplies about 1000 pounds of meat, 1000 pounds of oil and 500 pounds of leather.

Indifference to public matters is a kind of pessimism.

Dislikes Film Star, Sets Fire to Theatre

CLINTON, Mass., March 15.—Because he was displeased with the actions of an actress in a serial movie film, James O'Toole, 12 years old, told State Officer E. J. McCarthy that he attempted to burn down the Star Theatre, a $150,000 structure. He also admitted setting fire to his own home and to a breaking and entering charge, all within six months.

Judge Jonathan Smith, in District Court, sentenced the lad to the Shirley State Industrial school and suspended sentence a year, during which he will be on probation.

THEATRES

The GLENDALE

"The Worldly Madonna," now showing at the Glendale Theatre, features Clara Kimball Young in a fine dual role film that exactly suits her particular talents.

It is the story of two sisters, alike in looks and build, one of whom is a novitiate in a convent, the other a singer in a cabaret. A crime is committed, and to save her worldly sister, the young nun changes places with her.

The result gives rise to a remarkable series of tense situations, and lends Miss Young the opportunity for some amazingly fine acting. Her many friends will welcome this opportunity to see her in a fine role.

No one very much resents a scolding for being extravagant.

The T. D. & L.

"The White Flower," featuring Betty Compson and released by Paramount, is showing at the T. D. & L. Theatre for the last times today. It has proved itself a thoroughly enjoyable picture and Manager Fleming states that in his opinion it is one of the best films since "Kick In," in which Miss Compson recently appeared.

All the langour, the romance, the sudden passion of Hawaii are in the film, together with all its marvelous beauty of scene.

It tells the story of a young native girl who is half American, and of her love for the young American "pineapple king" of the islands. When the Hawaiian girl learns the American has a fiancee, she plans a death trap, but love saves her from herself in the end.

Hadden Denies Theory Of Man's Evolution

"The Problems of Man," was the subject of the address Dr. R. A. Hadden gave to a crowded auditorium last night at the Glendale Presbyterian church. He answered the question: "Is he a creation or an evolution?"

Dr. Hadden said in part: "This atheistical evolution is a theory and nothing but a theory. After centuries of vaporizing it is still sea. It has never in its profession, pretension and propaganda produced anything but puerile paragraphs and pleasing platitudes. If modern evolution is true the Bible is false. If the Bible is true modern evolution is false.

"The Bible tells us that man came from the hand of a divine creator. Evolution says that man began at the bottom of the ladder, still slowly crawling to the top. True evolution is a science and a fact and not to be confounded with atheistical evolution. True evolution is a process of growth fairs.

"Man was created, not evolved. Of no other creature can it be said, 'and man became a living soul.'"

Dr. Hadden will speak tonight on "The Problem of Evil," which he explains as the irreconcilable warfare between the divine and diabolic, answers the question, will good or evil finally triumph?

Paris Paper Favors Ford for President

PARIS, March 15.—"When a person has become the greatest automobile manufacturer in the world, why should he not think of governing a country?" queries the newspaper L'Intransigeant, commenting that Henry Ford would like to be the next president of the United States.

"That would be very modern, an automobile manufacturer as president," the article continued, adding that Ford's friends and employes are paving the road to the presidential chair for the manufacturer by "incessant propaganda."

REALTORS FAVOR BUYING AIRPORT

City Manager Claims Land Shows Big Advance in Value Today

The conditions connected with the purchase of the site for the municipal aviation field, which is now the subject of an injunction suit in the courts, were related by City Manager W. H. Reeves at the weekly luncheon of the Glendale Realty Board at the C. & S. Cafeteria yesterday, when he declared that the land that had been bought by the city for $2000 an acre, after the closest investigation and an appraisal by a committee of realty experts, could now be sold for $3000 an acre, and that the income from the property that can actually be secured from leases, as soon as the present attempt to halt the purchase of the land can be foiled, is 33 per cent. Several firms, Mr. Reeves declared, are now waiting the result of the suit to determine their course of action before commencing actual construction of their factories here, while other firms are prepared to lease land at the aviation field as soon as they can be assured that they will be protected in their investments.

This land, Mr. Reeves stated, was bought by the City of Glendale for water-bearing land and to insure an adequate supply of water for the city. The rights of the city to all the water that may be developed on this property are fully safeguarded, he declared, and the establishment of the only permanent airport in the southern part of the state is an asset whose worth cannot be estimated.

Guthrie Retracts

Chas. B. Guthrie, who was one of the members of the board that appraised the property, stated that he had advised against the purchase of the property by the city at the time of the appraisal, although he knew the property was well worth the price asked, but he said that he wished to go on record at this time as retracting the opinion he expressed at that time, as he is convinced that the purchase of the land is and will be one of the soundest investments that the city could have made. A resolution was passed by the Glendale Realty Board endorsing the purchase of the land and emphatically condemning the action of those who have launched the injunction suit to prevent the consummation of the purchase.

A resolution adopted by the Pasadena Realty Board, attacking the reduction in the appropriations for the conduct of the California real estate department and asking that Governor Richardson revise his estimates for this branch of the state's work, was read to the board, with the request that the Glendale Realty Board adopt a similar resolution. A motion by W. L. Truitt that the Pasadena communication be tabled, in view of the fact that the people of this state elected the governor on a platform of economy and should, therefore, stand behind him in this instance, was lost overwhelmingly, and the opponents of the proposed cut jammed through a motion to adopt a resolution similar to that of the Pasadena board, claiming that the reductions suggested by the governor would cut the efficiency of the department for which the real estate operators of California are taxed so heavily and in whose maintenance they are so vitally interested.

Politics in Schools

Another skirmish developed when Chas. B. Guthrie moved that the board support the issue of $500,000 school bonds, to be voted today, adding the rider that the board also go on record as being opposed to the active participation in politics of anyone connected with the schools. Fifty-one per cent of the taxes paid by Glendale citizens, asserted Mr. Guthrie, are spent on the schools, and the citizens have a right to scrutinize closely the conduct of the institutions on which this money is spent and of those who are employed to run the schools. Dr. Jessie Russell took issue with Mr. Guthrie on the meaning of the rider to his resolution, and after some discussion it was dropped from the original motion but was passed as a separate motion.

A number of communications to the board were read, one of which stated that the proposed meeting of realty boards, scheduled for Long Beach on March 10th, had been postponed until April 14th.

WILL PICK QUEEN OF AERIAL RODEO

Girl Selling Most Tickets Will Ride in Leading Plane At Meet

The selection of a Queen of the Air Rodeo, that is to be held at the municipal airport on Saturday, March 17, when the field will be formally opened, is to be governed by the number of tickets sold by the different girls who are already working on this task. The time limit has been set by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, and the girl who disposes of the greatest number of tickets by that time will be given the honor of riding in the leading airship in the line that will circle around the town as one of the first numbers on the program.

Full details of the proposed contest can be secured at the Chamber of Commerce, where the tickets can be secured and where the arrangements for the Air Rodeo are being perfected.

Speed Kings Race

One of the big events of the opening program will be a speed trial of ten miles, which will bring out some of the most daring birdmen of Southern California in the latest models of plans. This event is known as the Saint Patrick's day race, and among the machines that are already entered are the Italian Billila, with Frank Clark, one of the speed kings of the air, as pilot; a Spad, with Earl Daugherty as mahout, and a guaranteed speed of 130 miles per hour; an entry by the Rogers Aircraft company, who will send a Newport against the other cracks; and the Catron & Fisk racing plane, which can do 140 miles an hour, it is claimed, and for which the pilot is yet to be named.

The full official program of events will be published in tomorrow's Glendale Evening News, in time to permit everyone to learn just what is to be done to launch Glendale's aviation field on its way.

City Manager W. H. Reeves was notified this morning that Captain Thomas P. Craven, commandant of the naval air station at San Diego, and Commodore A. W. Marshall of the aircraft squadron of the battle fleet, will arrive in Glendale about 1 p. m. Saturday, with Observation Squadron No. 1, consisting of four De Havland observation planes and two Bought fight planes, which will perform a number of stunts for the entertainment of the spectators at the flying field.

BATTLE FLAMES MENACING HOMES

Several Houses and Garage Damaged; Total Loss Is Placed at $8000

nando road; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sumner, and three young men, Walter Conrad, Ronald Conrad and Lester Tunnison who had an apartment on the second floor, but did not return home until 2:15 a. m., after the excitement.

Awakened By Flames

H. A. Page had mail yesterday for the three young men and remained up last night longer than usual, waiting for them to return. About 11:15 o'clock he detected an odor similar to burning rags, which he now believes was the insulation burning off the electric wires. He walked around the buildings but could detect nothing wrong. About 11:30 he went to bed. Half an hour later, he heard the sound of crackling flames and looked out of his room on the second floor to see the roof of the garage on fire. He immediately aroused other members of the family and instructed central to call the fire department.

An attempt to get the motorcycles out of the workshop was made by G. E. Page who was slightly injured when one of the gasoline tanks exploded. He was obliged to abandon the attempt and both motorcycles are today a crumbled mass of junk iron.

Man Is Burned

Meanwhile, H. A. Page had succeeded in pushing a Ford belonging to Van Peters, which had been left on the east side of the house, to the street. This was used by Mr. Peters to take his wife, still in her night clothes, to Hollywood where they spent the balance of the night. She was restrained from jumping out of a second story window.

Meanwhile Alex Snyder of 1002 South Glendale avenue, had been making a frantic effort to drive his Ford roadster down the driveway at the south side of the burning garage. He had just gotten the motor started when the top caught fire and he was burned about the back of the neck. The machine hit a post on the north side of the driveway and Mr. Snyder jumped out in a hurry.

Damage to this machine amounts to a broken right front wheel which had all its spokes and rim broken, a burned top, a bent right front fender, a scarred and burned body. Mr. Synder, who viewed the wreckage this morning after his right hand and neck had been bandaged, agreed that it is "a darn good Ford for the shape it's in."

More Fire Alarms

About the time occupants of the house at 408 East Acacia avenue were making hurried exits, neighbors were sending in additional fire alarms and Sidney Chambers of 736 South Glendale avenue was hurrying to Fire Station No. 1 to ascertain what was detaining the fire department.

Capt. A. H. Lankford arrived on the scene in his red Buick with Dean Williams and Tom Young from Fire Station No. 3 in Grand View. Capt. Ed Fairfield and Sam Rich came in truck No. 5 from Station No. 2. From Station No. 1 in truck No. 5 came Capt. Ralph Dodsworth, Johnny Myers, George Blix and Harry Elliott.

A thousand feet of hose was laid and the fire was prevented from spreading to the adjoining buildings. The interior of the house at 408 East Acacia avenue was turned into a mass of charred wood, the garage was completely burned and the north side of the house at 1002 South Glendale avenue was badly scarred.

In breaking one of the second story windows Fireman Harry Elliott received a severe cut across his left hand and was given an anaesthetic at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital while eight stitches were taken in it.

The fire department remained on the job until 1:30 a. m. After their departure according to Reeve Henry Scheideman of 1002 South Glendale avenue, flames broke forth in spots and were extinguished by neighbors who were on the scene.

HISTORY and PLUMBING

IN 1843, Philadelphia passed a law prohibiting bathing between November 1st and March 15th. In 1845 Boston made bathing unlawful unless prescribed by a physician. The State of Virginia went them one better in 1845 by imposing a tax of $30 per year on every bath tub. In 1851 President Fillmore installed the first bath tub in the White House. That is History.

Not more than thirty years ago New Orleans was a plague ridden City. The deaths from Yellow fever were appalling. The world stood aghast. THE CAUSE WAS LACK OF MODERN PLUMBING. The officials of the National Association of Master Plumbers were appealed to. The result was the installation of a modern sewer system and the complete elimination of Yellow fever. THAT IS PROGRESS.

The knowledge of such achievements inspires to greater effort the members of the Sanitary Development League. The League is composed of 200 Southern California Plumbers, all high-minded, successful business men!

Bargains Lure Buyers To Fashion Center

Dollar Day attractions announced yesterday by the Fashion Center brought out a large crowd of shoppers early this morning and long before the time for opening the doors the sidewalk in front of the little shop in the Monarch building was lined with women waiting to buy one or several of the garments advertised.

Reduced because of slight imperfections, the garments on sale offered good values, formerly reaching up to the $35 mark. There were all lines in the ready-to-wear department, also lingerie and children's coats, all sold for one dollar.
